B. Barrail, 813 Delaware street, Berkeley, has invented a machine simple in constrction but astonishing in its accomplishments, which will carry a boat over water at a high speed without the assistance of a propeller or coming in contact with the water. Barrail has applied for a patent. He has a crude model on exhibition in his workshop. It is said by those who have seen the invention that it will revolutionize the present method of propelling water craft.

Beckhaus Calls "Thirty."

Beckhaus, the grocer who has conducted an up to date place of business on Fourth street for the past two years, assigned his stock to the San Francisco board of trade Monday to satisfy his creditors. Beckhaus has always been one of the live ones in his line, conducted a clean, up to-date place of business proficiency in his line of business, being attained by years of experience in the largest cities, and his many friends regret that he has not found the business a profitable one in Richmond.

The Terminal Stationery Store, at 618 Macdonald avenue, is besieged by youngsters for school supplies, novelties and toys.

Albany Citizens "All Worked Up"

Special Correspondence Richmond Terminal.

ALBANY, Cal., Feb. 7.—Albany, Richmond and Oakland's "sandwich," is on the verge of an "uprising" caused by the efforts of of the anti-saloon element to oust the obnoxious and antiquated roadhouse across the line into Contra Costa. Rust, the metropolis at the county line, has turned up her nose at Albany, and declares she has a sufficiency of "booze joints" and that she will not take over any more of Albany's drinking resorts at present.

The saloonmen are preparing for a hot contest, and ridicule 'the idea' of Albany going dry. On the other hand, the drys and are preparing for a demonstration, one they claim will even appeal to the "hardened liquor dispenser." The little children of the Albany churches will parade the streets of that city next Sunday, with banners flying, and temperance songs sing their way into the hearts of the voters for protection against the 'rum demon.'

The conservatives claim they are willing to try a "dry" change, as property values in Albany have been at a standstill for years, and it is claimed that the roadhouse saloon is to blame. As usual there is much feeling, and no doubt the fight on St. Valentine's day will be a bitter one.

Monterey County Visitors.

James H. McDougall and W. M. Pence, two distinguished visitors, were in Richmond from Salinas, Monterey county, last Sunday, the guests of Attorney Clarence Odell, who was formerly a resident of Salinas. Mr. McDougall is president of the Salinas City Bank, one of the oldest financial institutions of Monterey county. Mr. Pence is an attorney and an old resident of Salinas as is also Mr. McDougall, having settled there in early days The gentlemen were here on business.

Landmark to Be Razed.

The old brewery building at University and San Pablo avenues which has been vacant and unused for many years is to be razed to the ground and modern structures will take its place. The old Berkeley landmark was the first brewery on the east side of the bay and was known as the Holberg brewery. Geo. Austin, the well known Oakland real estate dealer, has purchased the property, which comprises the entire block, and will subdivide and place it on the market at once.

More Business Blocks.

Two Woodland men are the latest to plan business blocks in Richmond. One is the former mayor of Woodland, J. T. Mitchell. He will erect a three story brick on Macdonald near 12th. Louis Narden of the same city will erect a similar structure on Macdonald avenue near 7th. These buildings will be fireproof and modern in every detail.

Wild Cat Canyon Gives Up Its Dead

Game Warden Picked Off by Unknown Enemy With Unerring Aim.

Many hunters who reside in the territory contiguous to the county line and in Alameda and Contra Costa counties are familiar with the Wildcat canyon territory and the brush covered hills and small canyons which afford refuge for game and obscure the view of the game warden, who patrols the wooded vales and various trails for violators of the game law.

Among the many game wardens who spent last Sunday in the canyon was Bert Blanchard, deputy fish and game commissioner, who left his home, 1398 20th street, Oakland, last Sunday morning. Blanchard was found Wednesday morning in Wildcat canyon by two mushroom hunters with his head partly shot away, and from appearances had been dead several days. The body was brought to Richmond. Blanchard had been making numerous arrests and had been threatened by many. Deputy Sheriff W. M. Veale and others who investigated came to the conclusion that Blanchard had met with foul play at the hands of parties he had arrested, as the gun wads from the exploded shell were found a dozen feet from the body There is no clew to the murderer. Two Richmond policemen, Ruiz and Walker, have arrested C. Pasquala and Lugi Scalzer, Italian nurserymen, under suspicion of being connected with the tragedy.

Blanchard was for a number of years cornet player in Ye Liberty theatre, Oakland. His funeral w s held today from his home in Oakland.

Brooding Causes Suicide.

Claude Tussing, a pipe fitter employed by the Standard oil refinery, was found dead in bed Tuesday night at 8 o'clock by his brother and sister, who had come from Oakland to visit him. Tussing undoubtedly killed himself some time Sunday night as the body had the appearance of being dead at least 48 hours. Death was caused from a pistol bullet, as a weapon was grasped in the death grip of the right hand. Tussing was 26 years of age and had a wife and two small chilpren in Fresno. The couple has become estranged and Tussing became melancholy from living alone and the unsuccessful attempt to induce his wife to return to him.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Scores of friends of the late pioneer and veteran of the civil war attended the funeral obsequies of the William Mark Wood, who passed away at the residence of his son, 327 12th street Saturday. DEMOCRATIC TARIFF PROGRAM

Believed There Will Be No Difficulty in Passing Bill at Special Session

Hope to Reduce Rates to Competitive Basis and at Same Time Raise Revenue

Washington—Democratic leaders in the house expressed the view that there would be no difficulty in getting the ways and means committee tariff revision plan through the house at the coming extra session and said they did not anticipate much trouble with it in the senate.

The majority of the committee will begin framing the tentative legislation at once and count upon the Democratic caucus of the next house approving its work substantially as the committee reports it.

So far there has been no formal conclusion as to any of the schedules as a whole, though the general policy has been indicated as to revising the rates to a reasonable competitive basis, with revenue raising and saving to the consumer as primary factors.

The committee has heard a great number of witnesses on the sundries schedule of the tariff. The scene will now shift to the free list, the administrative provisions and miscellaneous tariff ideas. The testimony on the tariff sundries ranged from birds of paradise to boots and shoes and bituminous coal. The examination indicated a probability of at least a substantial reduction from the present duties on boots and shoes, and in the opinion of some of the majority leaders, a transfer of those articles to the free list.

"We will levy a rate below the present rate," said Chairman Underwood to witnesses. "I would be glad if it could be done to take off the tariff entirely and to have the American importer go in and beat the foreigner."

The existence of a trade agreement between the Florence Manufacturing company of Florence, Mass., and the jobbers under which the retail price of tooth brushes was fixed was admitted by William Cordes, treasurer of that concern, who said his company produced one-third of the total tooth brush output of the country.

Questioned regarding this agreement, which Representative Fordney told the witness was in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, Mr. Cordes admitted that if a jobber failed to keep the agreement, the company would sell to the jobber thereafter only on the same basis as a retailer. Mr. Cordes said that his attorney had advised him that the agreement was not in violation of the law, and Representative Fordney advised him against continuing the agreement.

INCOME TAX IS NOW ASSURED

Thirty-eight States, Two More Than Sufficient, Ratify Amendment

Washington, Feb. 4.—Direct taxes upon the incomes of citizens of the United States, whether derived from idle capital or from the conduct of business, were made possible yesterday by the ratification of the sixteenth amendment to the federal constitution. Delaware, Wyoming and New Mexico, indorsing the income tax amendment through their respective legislatures, completed a list of thirty-eight states that have approved it, two more than the three-fourths necessary for its final adoption. Following is the list of states which have ratified the income tax amendment:

Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, Wisconsin, Louisiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Wyoming.

Connecticut, New Hampshire and Rhode Island legislatures rejected the amendment, and no action, or only partial action, has been taken by the other nine states.

Leaders in congress predicted last night that through this authorization the law which will be passed to levy the tax upon American incomes will be introduced as soon as the extra session opens. Its exact terms have not yet been decided upon, but it is believed it will exempt all incomes below $4,000 or $5,000, and will provide a tax of 1 per cent upon the majority of personal incomes that do not run to an excesive figure.

SENATE APPROVES THE SIX-YEAR TERM FOR PRESIDENT

Washington, Feb. 3.—A constitutional amendment which would restrict the president of the United States to a single term of six years, and would bar Woodrow Wilson and Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft from again seeking election, was approved by the senate Saturday by the narrow majority of one vote.

After a three-day fight, in which the Progressives joined with many Republicans in opposing the restricted presidential term, the senate adopted the original Works resolution by a vote of 47 to 23.

The language which it is proposed to insert in the constitution in place of the first paragraph of article 2 is as follows:

"The executive power shall be invested in a president of the United States of America. The term of the office of president shall be six years, and no person who has held the office by election, or discharged its powers or duties, or acted as president under the constitution and laws made in pursuance thereof, shall be elegible to hold again the office by election.

"The president, together with a vice-president, chosen for the same term, shall be elected as follows:"

The resolution now goes to the house for its approval. If ratified there by a two-thirds vote, it will be submitted to the legislatures of the states, and will become effective when three-fourths of the forty-eight states of the Union have officially approved it.

SULZER WANTS STOCK EXCHANGE SUPERVISED

Albany, N. Y.—State supervision and regulation of the New York stock exchange and other stock exchanges are advocated by Governor Sulzer in a message to the legislature. The time is ripe, in the governor's opinion, for the state to step in and end "flagrant abuses, shifty schemes and clever combinations to catch the unwary and to mislead the public."

To effect this he recommends the enactment of a group of laws, at least one of which shall provide imprisonment as a penalty for its violation. These laws, the governor says, should apply to certain practices which have been shown to exist by the Pujo committee of the house of representatives and other investigators.

"The testimony of some of the governors of the exchanges," Governor Sulzer says, "leaves no doubt in the minds of men of judgment that the exchanges have been either incapable or unwlilling to devise measures that will effectively eradicate the evils. It now is the obvious duty of the state, it seems to me, to devise the remedies. If the state neglects to do its plain duty the state should find no fault if the federal government acts in the premises."

Railway Presidents Again Indicted

New York—Charles S. Mellen, president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad company; E. J. Chamberlain and Alfred W. Smithers, president and chairman respectively of the Grand Trunk railway of Canada, have been reindicted by the federal grand jury for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in an alleged monopolistic agreement between the New Haven and Grand Trunk roads.

RESUMPTION OF WAR SEEMS CERTAIN

London, Feb. 1.—The Balkan allies and the Turks are making active preparations to resume hostilities in southeastern Europe.

The delegates of the allies to the peace conference here are saying farewell and packing their baggage preparatory to departing from London. A news agency dispatch received here from Constantinople reported that the Turkish delegates had been ordered home, but the command has not yet been received here. The good offices of the powers to avert a further resort to arms apparently have failed thus far.

Even at this late hour each side to the dispute is accusing the other of bluffing. The Turks declare that in their note to the powers Thursday the allies were given greater concessions as a basis for resuming the peace negotiations than they had expected would be made them at the commencement of the peace negotiations. The allies practically admitted this but say that terms which would have been acceptable even a fortnight ago cannot now be entertained and that the Turkish game obviously is to lead them by the nose for months, counting on their possible exhaustion and hoping that complications will arise to favor Turkey.

Dr. Daneff, head of the Bulgarian delgation, said that the feelings of the Balkan populations must be considered.

Excitement among them, he declared, had reached the highest degree against their "fraudulent" treatment by a handful of Young Turk conspirators, who had attempted to play with the decision of Europe and the honor, prestige and lives of the Balkan peoples.

A comparison between the Vatican and the Mussulman's holy shrines in Adrianople, Dr. Daneff said, was inadmissible. The Italians, he declared, made concessions to the Papacy after they had taken possession of Rome. In addition, Dr. Daneff continued the Vatican was the residence of the Pope and contained the tombs of apostles and former popes, while Adrianople, with the exception of its mosques, had nothing absolutely vital to the Mussulman people. Dr. Daneff repeated that nothing could stop a reopening of the war except the unconditional surrender of Adrianople and the Aegean islands.

HOSTILITIES RESMUED AT ADRIANOPLE

Sofia, Feb. 4.—The bombardment of Adrianople began one hour after the expiration of the armistice.

Constantinople, Feb. 4.—It is announced officially that hostilities began punctually at 7 o'clock last night, both at Adrianople and Tchatalja. At Adrianople the allies opened the bombardment. At Tchatalja an insignificant skirmish occurred.

The consuls at Adrianople have requested the ambassadors here to arrange with the Bulgarian authorities for permission for 120 foreigners at Adrianople to pass through the Bulgarian lines.

GEN. CASTRO ORDERED DEPORTED FROM U. S.

Washington—Cipriano Castro, former president of Venezuela, has been denied admission to the United States as a visitor by Charles Nagal, secretary of commerce and labor. The Venezuelan's unwavering refusal to answer the question whether, while president of his country, he was a party to the killing of General Paredez, was the cause of Secretary Nagel's order for his deportation.

The cabinet member sustained the adverse report of the immigration authorities against Castro on the ground that his declination to answer "may in it self constitute an admission by conduct" of the commission of a felony. The immigration law bars from entry any person convicted of or admitting the commission of a crime involving moral turpitude, providing it is not purely a political offense. The secretary held that the murder of Paredez was not a purely political crime.

Further, the secretary declared that an alien was compelled to answer "Yes" or "No" to any pertinent question regarding his admissibility. If permitted to refuse, he maintained, the immigration service "might just as well anjourn."

No Successor to Smith

Sacramento—No special election will be called to fill the vacancy in congress caused by the death of Congressman S. C. Smith of Bakersfield, who represented the old eighth district, the reason being that the term which Smith was to have filled expires March 4. The old eighth district, under the reapportionment of 1911, is now embraced partially in the sixth district, to be represented by Denver S. Church, and partially in the eleventh district, in which William Kettner was elected congressman.

Massachusetts Selects Site

San Francisco—Three members of the Massachusetts exposition commission, Colonel Peter H. Corr, Alexander H. Sedgwick and George T. Meade, arrived here Thursday last for the purpose of selecting a site for the Bay state's participation in the 1915 celebration. On Tuesday the site was formally dedicated.

SUFFRAGIST PARADE THE BIG FEATURE

Fifty Thousand Expected in Line of March at Inauguration

Women Form All Parts of the World to March Under Banner of Equal Rights

Washington—From present indications the mammoth suffrage parade, with 50,000 women from all parts of the civilized world marching under the banner of "Votes for Women," promises to be the most elaborate and spectacular event of the inauguration.

The parade has grown to such proportions that it will present the greatest demonstration known in the history of the world on behalf of womankind.

From far-off Australia a delegation is coming. China, Norway and Sweden will be represented by attractive delegations in native costumes, while the batalian of Indian women will be unique.

Five thousand college women, representing every woman's college in America, with huge delegations from Vassar Wellesley and Bryn Mawr, will portray the hold the suffrage movement has on the American college women.

With the full permission of Uncle Sam a group of government women clerks, numbering 2000, will march along, carrying the banner of equal rights for all.

In pathetic contrast to the society and professional women found by scores in the ranks will be a company of garment workers from New York, their thin clothes and wan faces testifying to the brutal work of man-made laws.

General Rosalie Jones and her squad of brave "hikers" will be in line.

It has been promised that a fighting troop from England's militant suffrage army will be on hand to witness the gentler arts of peace practiced by their American sisters.

Miss Adele W. King, a belle of Baltimore, will join in the beauty contest as official trumpeter of the Baltimore division.

When President Taft looked across the White House lawn at breakfast he saw the first physical preparations for the inauguration of his successor. Pennsylvania avenue, in front of the executive mansion, was filled with wagons loaded with lumber for the stands from which the inaugural parade will be viewed, and scores of laborers began the building.

Almost the first thing that met the president's eye when he entered his office a few minutes later was the joint congressional resolution, appropriating $23,000 for additional police protection for Washington during the inauguration period. Taft smiled as he signed the resolution.

Dogs of high degree are to participate in festivities attendant upon the induction into office of Professor Woodrow Wilson, and will march in the inaugural parade.

"Finely bred, splendidly trained, keen-nosed foxhounds are going to have a section of the parade all their own," says an announcement from the inaugural committee in heralding this menagerial feature of the coming pageant.

"The finest pack of hounds in all the world," is the description of the canine group which Dr. Lester Jones of Culpepper, Va., is assembling to lope ahead of a mounted brass band that will escort Hunt Club riders from the president-elect's native state in the civil section of the parade.

BLACK MUST SERVE LONG PRISON TERM

San Jose, Feb. 4.—Former State Senator Marshall Black, who pleaded guilty last Friday to three specific embezzlements of money while secretary of the Palo Alto Mutual Building and Loan Association, has been sentenced by Superior Judge J. E. Richards to ten years in San Quentin, seven years onthe first indictment, two on the second and one on the third. They are to run consecutively, instead of concurrently, each to commence when the other concludes. The manner in which the sentences are arranged is said to preclude any possibility of probation, and Black cannot regain his freedom in less than seven years and three months, even though he is a model prisoner.

RESTAURANT MEN WILL KEEP 1915 CHARGES DOWN

San Francisco—Restaurant men of this city have organized for the purpose of spreading broadcast the information that visitors to the Exposition cit in 1915 will not be overcharged. The new organization is called the San Francisco Restaurant Men's Association. The movement has been organized "not only to assure that there shall be no exorbitant prices charged during the exposition, but that the cosmopolitan character of this city's restaurants shall be more widely known."

Washington—A feminine Paul Revere, riding from suffrage pillar to post on the road from New York to Washington, will be a feature of the big suffrage parade in Washinton on March 3.

Sharp Witness.

A humorous man being subpoenaed as a witness on a trial for an assault, one of the counsel, who was notorious for brow-beating witnesses, asked him what distance he was from the parties when the assault happened; he answered: "Just four feet five inches and a half." "How come you to be so very exact?" said the counsel. "Because I expected some fool or other would ask me," said he, "and so I measured it."

Reduce Cost of Reading.

There are two clubs in New York that are designed to reduce the cost of fresh reading matter. One is composed of women who contribute 25 cents a month and have the use of all the best magazines, which are later sent to a hospital. The other buys new books for the same price so each member and the books are disposed of by a lottery system, although each member gets one. There are hundreds of ways to save money.

Naturally Frightened.

Decayed and fungoid wood is also "fox fire." On one occasion some of this was used for a camp fire, and many of the broken fragments were scattered over the ground where the men were sleeping. The fire died out during the night and one of the party awoke, and in his fright woke the rest, who were equally terrified, believing that they were lying among live coals.

Non-Rusting Tinware.

If new tinware be rubbed over with fresh lard and thoroughly heated in the oven before it is used, it will never rust afterwards, no matter how much it is put into water. For stained tinware borax produces the best results. If a tea-pot or coffee-pot is discolored on the inside, boil it in a strong solution of borax for a short time, and all its brightness will return.

RECIPES IN MIXTURES

SOMETHING HERE TO SUIT ALL VARIETIES OF TASTE.

Marshmallow May Always Be Employed When a Sweet Confection Is Desired—Some Advice as to Its Use.

Dressing.—Warm about half a gallon of simple sirup and beat in one 25-cent package of marshmallows. This can be made into many styles, using chopped nuts and fresh fruits to mix in the dressing.

Dressing No. 2.—Put the contents of 10-cent package of marshmallows in a double boiler and let dissolve over a moderate fire. Take half pint of granulated sugar and three tablespoons of boiling water, cook until it threads from the spoon, beat slowly into the white of two eggs, then add the marshmallows while the frosting is hot.

Frosting.—Boil three-quarters of a cup of granulated sugar and one-fourth of a cup of milk without stirring for six minutes or until the sirup threads. Cook and stir one 10-cent package of marshmallows and two tablespoons of water until smooth. Put the two mixtures together and beat until thick enough to spread, after flavoring to state.

Dessert.—Lay slices of angel food cake on small place. Spreak over these a mixture made of one 25-cent package of marshmallows, put into a little and and set over a slow fire to melt. Whip cream, to which add vanilla to suit taste. Spread this on marshmallows and then another layer of cake and marshmallows and finish with cream. Set aside for one hour before serving.

Lemon Dessert.—Dissolve one package lemon flavor gelatine in one pint of boiling water. Just ae it begins to stiffen drop contents of one 10-cent package of marshmallows into the gelatine. Pour into a mold and when firm decorate with marshmallows and serve with whipped cream.

Combination Dessert.—Take one ten-cent package, one cup of pineapple,, half a cup of walnuts (chopped), one cup cream (whipped). Mix pineapple, walnuts and marshmallows together and add whipped cream.

Orange Dessert.—Cut contents of 10-cent package of marshmallows in quarters with scissors. Soak in juice three oranges two hours, then add whipped cream at top.

Delight.—Cut up one 25-cent package of marshmallows. Whip half a pint of cream, chop one cup English walnut meats, or put in candied cherries. Flavor with rum. Mix marshmallows and nuts or the cherries. Pour over them beaten cream. Serve in sherbet glasses.

Scalloped Cabbage With Meat.

Boil a head of cabbage in two waters, and when you cook cabbage always leave the pot uncovered and have standing near it on the stove a cup of vinegar. Drain the cabbage let it cool and chop it fine. Butter a pudding dish and strew it with fine crumbs. On this put a layer of minced cabbage seasoned with salt and pepper; dot it with bits of butter, then put on more crumbs and a layer of chopped corned beef. You may use ham, but in this case omit the salt from the layers of cabbage. Continue in this way until your dish is full. Pour in a cupful of this liquor, in which your corned beef was boiled, strew crumbs on the top, and over this grated cheese, bake, covered for half an hour, uncover and brown. Serve in the dish in which it was cooked.

Standard Sponge Cake.

The following is the ordinarily standard sponge cake, and needs no baking powder to raise. Add one cup of fine granulated sugar. Beat again. Add the juice and grated rind of one lemon and beat again. Add the stiffly beaten whites of five eggs and beat once more. Fold in slowly one cup of flour sifted three times. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour. Do not open the oven door for 15 minutes after putting the cake in.

Three-Egg Cake.

One cup sugar, one-half cup butter beaten to a cream, whites of three eggs beaten to a froth, one-half cup sweet milk, one teaspoon baking powder; flavor with lemon and two cups of flour.

Frosting—Beat the yolks of two eggs with two teaspoons of sugar, and while the cake is hot and in the pan put on the frosting and put in damp place.

Salad Secret.

My friends all flatter me on my excellent potato salad, says a contributor to the Modern Priscilla. I claim this is due to a little invention of my own. Before adding the usual vinegar or mayonnaise dressing I make a thin paste of one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour and a cup of boiling water. Put this over the potatoes. This makes them smooth and solid after the dressing is added.

Baked Squash.

Cut open the squash, take out the seeds and without parting it cut it up into large pieces. Place the pieces in a dripping pan and bake about an hour in a moderately hot oven. When done serve the pieces hot on a dish, season with butter, pepper and salt. Squash retains its sweetness better when boiled. Small Hubbard squash is the best for baking.

Salmon and Rice.

Form freshly boiled rice into flat cakes, brown slightly in butter on both sides and place on a warmed platter. Warm a can of salmon and dip over the rice. Over this pour a white sauce into which has been stirred the whites of two hard boiled eggs cut in dice. Garnish with the yolks cut into slices.

Befsteak Roll.

Have a piece of round steak cut evenly, make a dressing as for poultry, spread it over the beef, roll it up and tie. Lay this into a round bottom kettle, in which a few pieces of fat pork have been tried out, turn over until browned on all sides, add a little salt and boiling water. Cover closely and stew two hours.

NOTEBOOK HABIT GOOD ONE

Method by Which Housekeeper Will Accomplish a Good Deal of Work in a Short Time.

If you are one of those people who keep putting off doing little tasks about the house until they are piled up mountain high, try the following plan:

Get a notebook and write down in it a list of all the various things you have been meaning to do but never have time to—such as sending off a recipe to a friend, returning the song you borrowed, or mending the hole in the curtains. When the list is completed, set aside the first afternoon or evening you can possibly spare and work off as many as you can. As soon as you have finished one, score it off with a pencil, and you will be surprised to find what a pleasant sensation it is to see the list growing smaller.

Very likely you will clear the things off so quickly that you will be looking round for other things to do, says Home Chat.

Of course, some people have taught themselves to do things just the moment they are noticed, or as soon after as they can possibly manage it, and don't need reminders, but the notebook will help those who have not acquired the "do it now" habit.

USING STUMPS OF ASPARAGUS

Writer Gives a Recipe for Most Economical as Well as an Especially Nourishing Soup.

A very economical asparagus soup may be made by saving the tough part of the asparagus and the water in which the tips have been boiled. Boil the stumps until they have become soft, and squeeze out the goodness, which add to the water in which the tips and also the water in which the stumps were boiled and add two slices of onion or some onion juice and flour, butter, seasoning and cream to make a soup of the desired consistency, as you would make any other kind of soup. This saves the whole of the value of the stumps as well as the water in which the tips were boiled, and you have the tips for the other uses, while not wasting them in garnishing the soup or needing to buy the whole bunches for the soup alone or for the toast alone. The habits of making our cooking take every scrap of value in any materials means the difference between sharp poverty and comfortable living, in most cases of ordinary living, with average income. — Chicago Inter Ocean.

Oyster Cocktails.

Make the sauce by stirring together a tablespoonful of tomato catsup, one-half tablespoonful of grated horse radish, one-half tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a dash of Tabasco sauce, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, and salt to taste. Set in the ice until chilled through. Into chilled small glasses put five little oysters and pour in this sauce, then put the glass in the center of a plate of cracked ice. Or—and this is the better way—put the glass of sauce in the center of the plate of ice and arrange about it, in a circle on the ice, the small oysters on the half shell.

Red Cabbage.

I'm sending a delicious way of preparing red cabbage, and I hope you will all save this recipe and try it. I know when you have tried it once it will appear quite often on your table and you will thank your lucky stars you saved the recipe. Cut up cabbage into long narrow strips as for noodles, cover with two parts water and one part vinegar. Cook until tender, which will be one or two hours. Stir occasionally to prevent burning. Drain off vinegar and season with salt, pepper and butter.—Boston Globe.

Copper Egg Set.

Altogether fascinating to the lover of attractive table accessories are the copper egg-cooking outfits for the breakfast table. Usually the set is found in cheerful copper, but sometimes may be duplicated in nickel for the more ecomonical. There's a tray to hold the whole outfit, an alcohol egg cooker with compartments for six eggs, and six egg cups of metal, with a porcelain inner cup. They are really most attractive when made of copper

Anchovy Toast.

Remove the tops and bottoms from five lunch rolls; then cut each into slices, toast and butter them. Wash and remove bones from anchovies, chop fine, spread on five of the pieces of toast, cover with remaining pieces, arrange on their dish and pour over custard made as follows: Place one-half pint of cream in a double boiler; as soon as it comes to a boil add two well beaten eggs and let it thicken. Serve hot.

Chocolate Custard.

One and three-fourths cupfuls of milk, one square of chocolate, one-half cupful of sugar will be needed. Cook together and add two tablespoonfuls of powdered gelatin. When nearly congealed beat in the whites of two eggs stiffly beaten. Serve with a custard made of the two yolks, one cupful of milk and one-third cupful of sugar cooked until creamy and flavored with vanilla.

Washing Chamois Gloves.

In washing chamois gloves do not rub the soap on them.

Make a strong lather instead, and go over them, squeezing and rubbing as if washing the hands. Rinse in the same pay, always in cold water.

Wipe with a soft linen cloth, getting as much water out of them as possible while still on the hands.

Dry and push into shape with a glove stretcher.

Coffee Pie.

One and one-half cups cold coffee, one-half cup of milk, yolks three eggs, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, four tablespoons sugar and one tablespoon lemon juice. Cook until it thickens in double boiler and pour in freshly baked crusts. Beat the whites of eggs with two tablespoons sugar, flavor, spread over top and brown in oven.

WORLD OWES DEBT TO WOMAN

Fostering of Agriculture Has Been From the Beginning of Time in Female Hands.

Agriculture today depends chiefly upon the work of the primeval woman. We are indebted to the nomad's wife for the greatest of all economic services. She tamed the young of the more tamable animals, gave them to her savage husband, and made of him the more civil herdsman who for ages followed his flocks after the manner of Jacob and Lot and Job. This fertile wife of the nomad became the wife of farmers, and she made a farmer of her son by placing in his hand the precious seed of the grains, the present basis of agriculture, the bread of man, and the concentrated food of all our domestic animals.

Where did this ancient mother get these precious seeds? In many cases we do not know, and cannot even guess. She found some plant with one or two rich seeds, planted them and then generation after generation her descendants picked over their little grain patches, selecting seeds to be preciously preserved from the harvest festival to the next spring planting festival, which we now call Easter. By this process running on through unknown generations of men the plants became so changed by the artificial application of Darwin's law of selection that now no botanist dares suggest what plant or plants were the wild forebears of some of the present grains from which the world today obtains its bread.

We are indebted to this cave dwelling woman. But shall we accept her work as final? Can science do no better than follow along the path she laid out? The fact that agricultural science is today doing little more than this is one of the pathetic illustrations of the smallness of our view.—Prof. J. Russell Smith, in Harper's Magazine.

IN HOUSES OF CORNSTALK

Primitive Dwelling Places That Are Occupied by the Poorest Class of Egyptian Peasants.

On the outskirts of Alexandria we passed numerous groups of Bedouins camping by the side of the Mahmoudieh canal. Out in the fields men and women, dressed alike in the loose cotton gown of the country, were busily at work. The fields were dotted with curious doorless structures made of cornstalks. They are used as temporary homes at certain seasons of the year, as, for instance, when the crops are being gathered.

Later on I entered one, and found it to be not more than five feet square; one could not stand upright inside. The place contained nothing but a few jars and cooking utensils. In the winter the occupants wrap themselves up in their clothes at night, covering the heads also, but leaving the feet bare. The hut I saw was occupied by a man and his son. These people, of course, are the fellaheen—the peasants—the pure Egyptian of the poorest class.—Christian Hereald.

13,000 Miles of Silver.

The greatest money count in the history of the United States is now on. Every piece of money in the country's billion-bulging treasury must be handled and each security fingered. A corps of men—the most expert money counters in the world—will work at the task day and night, but it will take them sixty days to finish it. There are 156,708,960 silver dollars alone in this vast sum. Much of the coin counting is done by weighing, but there is an ingenious machine which digests silver dollars, quarters and halves and counts them as fast as a man can turn the handle. If the silver dollars were stacked one on top of another, they would tower 838 miles high. If they could be laid in a continuous line, each touching the other, the silver horde would stretch out for a distance of 13,000 miles.—Robert D. Heini in Leslie's.

Egyptian Justice.

In ancient Egypt all court business was carried on in writing, in order that the decision might not be influenced by oratory or personal appeal. The laws lay before the judges upon a table, and the accuser declared in writing how he had been injured whereupon the defendant stated in writing what he had to say. Then came a rejoinder from each party to the case, after which the judges deliberated among themselves until they had hit upon the proper legal penalty for the party who had in the meantime been adjudged guilty. This point being reached the president of the judges touched with an image of Thmei, the "Goddess of Truth," the manuscript of the guilty pleader and the case was over.

His Support Poor.

A Mississippi Democrat made several efforts to get a congressional nomination. He was soundly beaten every time, and at last announced that he was going over to the Republican party. Hundreds of negroes were in the district and among them the new leader did most of his work of organization. He built up clubs and held meetings and when another election period came had himself nominated. The negroes paraded diligently and the campaign had all the outward appearance of being full of hustle, but when the ballot boxes were opened there were but two votes for the former Democrat, and on top of that he was arrested for repeating.—Chicago Evening Post.

American Character in 1793.

The arrest of Midad Mitchell, a young American and protege of Baron von Steuben, by the Spanish commandant of New Madrid, Mo., in 1793, on the charge of espionage, gave Don Manuel Gayoso de Lemos, lieutenant governor of Upper Louisiana, an opportunity to express his opinions of Americans. Writing to Baron de Carondelet, lord governor at New Orleans, he said: "In general that (inconsistency) is the character of the majority of Anglo-Americans. Yet another feature of their character is that if they find an abode in another country they forget their own and for a time usually serve with efficiency."

WORLD'S DEBT TO THE AGES

Modern Progress, Thoroughly Analyzed, Not So Much of an Improvement on the Past.

Not by a great deal are all the old-fashioned things admirable, but by no means are they all inferior and out of date because they are old-fashioned. The best of them we may strain all our modern resources to equal, and not do it. The best products of old-fashioned training and education are still models for contemporary seminaries. As far back as we can reach into the history of mankind we find great people, easily the equals, and often the superiors, of our very best in mental and moral qualities. Our good luck is not that we are superior to them in our human material, but that we have at our service an immensely greater accumulation of knowledge, mostly about material things. Thanks to that, we understand the laws of nature much better than our fathers did, and that has helped us to make wonderful machines, and put them to doing, after their fashion, what used to be done by fingers, brains, and brawn. But spiritually we got our highest inspiration two thousand years ago, and have been trying ever since to reach up to it; and mentally, though we use better tools, we are no better, surely, than Pythagoras or Aristotle or the author of the Book of Job and hundreds of thinkers who must have long preceded any of them.—E. S. Martin, in Harper's Magazine.

SALLY'S LOSS, LONDON'S GAIN

How Maid Servant Lost Husband and Wealth and City Became Possessed of Fine Hospital.

That bequests to individuals and to public benevolences are frequently the result of a mere whim or of caprice, has no better illustration, perhaps, than the case of Thomas Guy, who built and endowed the great Guy's hospital of London, at a cost of £238,292 nearly two hundred years ago. Guy had a maid servant of strictly frugal habits, who made his wishes her careful study. He resolved to make her his wife. The necessary preparations were made for the wedding; and among others many little repairs were ordered by Mr. Guy in and about his house. The latter included the laying of a new pavement opposite the street door. It so happened that Sally, the bride-elect, observed a piece of pavement beyond her master's house that required mending, and of her own accord she gave orders to the workmen to do this. This was done in the absence of Mr. Guy, who on seeing more work done than he had ordered was informed that the additional work had been done by the mistress's orders. Thereupon Guy told Sally she had forgotten her position, and added: "If you take upon yourself to order matters contrary to my instructions before we are married, what will you not do after? I renounce my matrimonial intentions toward you." So Sally lost a rich and grouchy husband and London gained a noble institution for her poor.

Woman's Story.

A lady wrote to 25 friends and told them she was giving a "white elephant" party, and that each guest was to come and bring the absolutest most useless thing she possessed. And the whole 25 women turned up with their husbands!

Another lady was giving what is called a book tea—each guest to wear, pinned on her dress, something to represent the name of some book. The name of each book had been guessed, with one exception.

The lady who still puzzled everyone wore a photograph of her husband on her bodice. No one could guess the name of the book she intended the picture to represent, and after they had all given it up" she told them—"Life's Handicap."

Life Under Pressure.

The bed of the Arctic seas is very fine and plastic, while in the other zones of the Atlantic the bed is covered with reddish mud and an accumulation of the remains of animals that lived in the surface waters, died and slowly sank.

The pressure of these increases about one atmosphere to nearly every 32 feet, so every additional 330 feet adds the pressure of ten atmospheres. When deep-sea fishes are brought to the surface they lose their scales, their teguments become brittle, and they are so inflated by internal distension caused by the lessened pressure that in many cases they burst asunder.

Grotesque Names for Children.

Certain philanthropic Londoners have proposed a Guild of Godparents to save innocent children from the burden of grotesque names. Hundreds of examples of this poor form of parental wit occur in the birth registers for the past few years. Noah's Ark Smith, Sardine Box, Jolly Death, Judas Iscariot Brown, One-Too-Many Johnson, Not-Wanted Smith, Bovril Simpson, Merry Christmas Figgett, Odious Heaton and Anno Domini Davis are the names of children probably living who will have to bear them through life.

Portuguese Jury Drew Lots.

A new method of administering justice was applied recently at Villa Franca de Xira in Portugal.

A prisoner was charged with counterfeiting, and as the jury were evenly divided and could not agree they determined to draw lots. Two pieces of paper were procured, one was inscribed "guilty" and the other "innocent." They were then folded up, shuffled, and one was then chosen by a juryman.

It happened to be the one inscribed "guilty," whereupon the prisoner was sentenced to the maximum penalty.

Few Weather Facts.

California has the least number of thunder storms, and Alabama and Florida have the greatest number. Florida has the most even temperature.

FIVE SPLENDID SALADS

MAY PROPERLY BE SERVED AT DINNER OR LUNCHEON.

Combination of Prunes and Pecan Nuts Is a Favorite—With Apples and Dates—Nut Stuffing for Tomatoes.

Delicious salads to serve with roast meats or at a luncheon of bread and butter:

Prune and Pecan Nut Salad—Soak a quarter of a pound of prunes over night in cold water, then cook on the back part of the stove until tender, no longer; the water should be evaporated by that time. When cold, cut from the stones in lengthwise pieces. Cut pecan meats in slices and mix with olive oil and lemon juice, salt and red pepper. Turn over lettuce and serve.

Apple and Date Salad—Peel and core three choice apples and cut them in match-like pieces; there should be about a pint. Squeeze the juice of half a lemon over the apple. Pour boiling water over half a pound of dates, skim out and dry in the oven. When cold, cut each date in four pieces, rejecting the stones; sprinkle with a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and four tablespoonfuls of olive oil. Mix the apple and date and set aside in a cool place for an hour. When ready to serve add more oil and lemon juice if the mixture seems dry. Serve in a bowl lined with blanched heart leaves of lettuce.

Pineapple Salad—Shred one pineapple, add half the amount of white grapes skinned and seeded, an equal quantity of celery cut in small pieces and half a cup of brazil nuts peeled and sliced in small pieces. Moisten with mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves garnished with cherries.

Oranges peeled and sliced placed on a bed of crisp watercress and served with French dressing is a most delectable salad to serve with a duck dinner.

Tomato and Nut Salad—Scoop out the centers of a half dozen tomatoes; to the drained pulp add equal amount of chopped walnuts and a fourth of a cup of chopped green peppers. Serve with mayonnaise dressing. Fill the shells and garnish with mayonnaise.

Swiss Steak.

Have the meat cut an inch or more in thickness. Place it on the rolling board and cover it with a cup or two of flour in which you have placed your seasoning ingredients. With the edge of a plate pound the flour into the meat. You will find that you can force two ordinary cupfuls into a couple pounds of meat without difficulty. Treat both sides of the cut alike. Leave it then for an hour. When the meat refuses to take more flour, place it in a heavy covered skillet and just cover with water. Let it cook for two hours over a slow, simmering fire, and when you serve it you will have something that will almost literally melt in your mouth. The flour, meat juices and water form a thick gravy that is not the last delicious part of the dish.

Beef Pie.

Cut remnants of cold roast beef in one-inch cubes. Cover with boiling water, add one-half onion and cook slowly one hour. Remove onion, thicken gravy with flour, diluted with cold water, and season with salt and pepper. Add potatoes cut in quarter-inch slices, which have been parboiled eight minutes in boiling salted water. Put in a buttered pudding dish, cool, cover with baking powder biscuit mixture or pie crust. Bake in a hot oven. If covered with pie crust make several incisions in crust that gases may escape. You can buy a piece of stew meat and cook for pie, but this is a good way to use left-over beef.

To Foot Stockings.

To refoot stockings, I crochet the foot and leg together with a short stitch, using a silky cotton, writes a contributor to Modern Priscilla. It should be crocheted loose enough so that when the foot and upper are pulled the edges will meet. In this way it avoids a seam and will not hurt the ankle. Previously I always had trouble with the sewing ripping when putting the stocking on; it would not give, and the thread would crack. Since I have tried this way I do not have any trouble. The crochet stretches with the stocking.

Princess Pudding.

At the bottom of a good-sized mold place a layer of water ice an inch thick and cover to the same thickness with vanilla ice cream. Next add one pint of any frozen fruit, as brandied peaches, apricots, etc. Fill up the mold with ice cream and put on the lid. Bind a cloth around the opening, pack, and leave for two or three hours. When ready to serve, hold a warm towel around the mold and turn out on a dish. Dust with macaroon dust and serve.

Whitened Again.

Flannels, after they are laundered for a while, become yellow. If they are soaked for two or three hours in soap, two tablespoonfuls of borax and the same amount of carbonate of ammonia, they will get white again. These ingredients should be dissolved in five gallons of soft water. Boil the soap in the water until thoroughly dissolved, then add the remainder of the mixture.

Preventing Umbrella Ribs Rusting.

If you want your umbrella to last double the usual time, make it a rule to pour a few drops of oil into the top notch about once a month. This prevents the ends of the ribs from rusting, and so prolongs the life of the umbrella.

Fault.

Disagreeable people always must be exaggerated, it seems, until they occupy much more than their allotted space in the world.

Woman Given High Position.

In Switzerland a woman has been appointed to the chief inspectorship of factories, a coveted position hitherto held only by men. This appointment is the outcome of a special commission which met to inquire into factory conditions of the various cantons. Owing to the great increase of women in industrial life the desirability of a woman as chief inspector was unanimously agreed upon by the commission.

Native American Products.

Tea is grown nowhere else in America but in South Carolina, so a box of native tea would be unique, and even cotton bolls are fascinating to those who are not accustomed to them. Florida has its quota furnished by nature. Guavas, limes and kumquarts are all desirable as gifts, either in their state or preserved. Alligator pears, mangoes or even chayotes are the greatest rarity in northern markets.

Pad With Papers.

When one does not happen to have an old blanket, which is usually used as a padding for the ironing board, a lot of old newspapers will be found to be an excellent substitute. Lay them smoothly on the board until you have the required thickness; then cover with a piece of cotton. The papers can be renewed from time to time and you always have a clean, smooth board.

Origin of Term Roundhead.

The fanatics of the time of Charles the First, ignorantly applying the text, "Ye know that it is a shame for men to have long hair," cut theirs very short. It is said that the queen, once seeing Pym, a celebrated patriot, thus cropped, inquired who that round-headed man was; and that from this incident the distinction became general, and the party were called Roundheads.

Where Caraway Seed Abounds.

Caraway seed is extensively grown in Holland. Groningen, in the northeast corner, produces more than any other province, next being north Holland, in which Amsterdam is situated. In these two provinces more than half the caraway plant acreage is found. In the whole country the number of acres devoted to caraway growing was, in 1911, 20,337.

His Absence Explained.

At Brentford, England, a woman complained that her husband stayed away from home for several days. She was talking volubly when the magistrate remarked that he was not surprised that her husband went away. "If you talk as glibly to him as you do to me," he added, "he would want a week's rest occasionally."

Diplomatic Youth.

Seven-year-old Bobbie brought his first report home from school, and it was bad. His mother scolded him, but he bore up bravely, and at the end of the maternal lecture he said by way of encouragement: "After all, ma, the greatest thing in life is health."

At Least Knew His Value.

A native, named Appu, of Kotahana, Ceylon, recently attacked his father and mother with a mallet while they were asleep, and nearly killed them. The excuse he subsequently gave was that he was disgusted with his "miserable parents for having such a low-down son."

It is said that the most useful citizen is not always measured by his bank account or real estate holdings.

More than 3000 bills were introduced in the legislature this session. Seventy five per cent of them found their way into the waste basket.

It is unauthentically reported that publisher Weiss will launch another labor journal in Richmond, the title of which will be "The Workless Worker."

Clarence Darrow in his cross-examination of informer Franklin in the Los Angeles bribery case, has built well the foundation for the impeachment of Franklin's testimony.

The national hobo convention which convened in New Orleans the first of the week, broke up in a row and the order has disbanded. The organization was wrecked on the rocks of socialism.

Senator John Hecker of Colorado made the statement on the floor of the senate in Denver the other day that women in that city exceed men in drinking intoxicating liquors 20 to 1. If this is true, California cities are outclassed.

Asiatic exclusion received the approval of the legislature, when the lower house unanimously passed the resolution calling upon congress to pass the bill introduced by Congressman Raker excluding Asiatic and pauper labor. The resolution was introduced in the upper house by Senator Sanford of Ukiah.

Before he quits office President Taft expects to send to the senate the nomination of five more federal judges, making a total of 114 in his administration, a record unequaled, so far as available documents show, by any other president in four years. Counting these five nominations and ten already sent to the senate but still unconfirmed, Taft will have named 58 per cent of the federal judges provided for by the statutes.

The Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey declared a dividend of $40 a share, payable February 15. It was explained that this dividend represented money owed to the company by its subsidiaries at the time of the dissolution. The companies have made payments, it is stated, from time to time, as able to do so from the moneys raised by the realization of assets or increase of capital stock. On the round figures the total payments to stockholders will amount to $40,000,000

Trespassing on the railroad right-of-way is the greatest cause for railroad fatalities, according to the investigations of the safety committees on the ten divisions of the Southern Pacific. It has been found that fifty per cent of the accidents that occur on this road happen to trespassers. The safety committees on the Southern Pacific were organized last June and since that time every accident of any description has been investigated by the committees and a remedy suggested to prevent a repetition.

GOV. COX TO EDITORS.

In his recent Columbus speech to the newspapermen comprising the associated Ohio dailies, Governor Cox intimated that he will oppose the initiated bill presented to the legislature from Cleveland, providing for the regulation of newspapers. In answer to a question of Malcolm Jennings of the Marion Star, asking his position upon the measure, the governor answered: "Any legislation which is a travesty upon human intelligence is not wanted, and such legislation will not be signed by me when it reaches the governor's office."

Referring to the newspaper business as "the greatest profession on earth," the governor urged upon the editors the necessity of good roads and a complete new school survey in Ohio. The governor upheld the anti lobby bill passed by the legislators.

Mayor Henry T. Hunt of Cincinnati, in a short speech to the editors, declared that newspapers and newspapermen don't "get their due."

GIBSON "WATCHED."

When a man becomes a useful citizen, and proves his ability as such by receiving the highest honors from his co-workers in every city of prominence on the Pacific Coast, then it is time to show appreciation in a substantial way. W. E. Gibson, president of the Oakland chamber of commerce was presented with a beautiful engraved gold watch on the evening of January 28th by the board of directors of the chamber of commerce and the citizens of Oakland. Mr. Gibson was recently elected president for another year. His devotion to public service is not only being rewarded in Oakland but the associated chambers of commerce of the Pacific coast, embracing the commercial organizations of Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Spakane, San Francisco, Oakland and San Diego elected him their president.

TO ENCIRCLE THE GLOBE.

H. C. Capwell, accompanied by his son, left Oakland yesterday on a tour of the world. Mr. Capwell expects to be absent at least a year. Everyone wishes the man who is foremost in Oakland's civic activities "bon voyage." He is entitled to the well earned respite from his arduous labors.
